What kinds of Special Educational Needs and Disability do we provide for?

As a mainstream primary academy, we provide for a wide range of Special Educational Needs and Disabilities.

During previous and the present academic year, we have supported children with the following needs:

- Social, Emotional and Mental Health Needs
- Speech, Language, Communication and Interaction Difficulties
- Autistic Spectrum Condition
- Specific Learning Needs (including dyslexia)
- Physical Needs
- Visual Impairment
- Hearing Impairment
- Sensory Needs

How do we identify a child with SEND and how do we assess their needs?

At Waterloo Primary Academy, when we have concerns about a child, we will follow the graduated approach outlined by Blackpool Local Authority.

Whole school ethos

Class teachers and learning support assistants (LSAs) continually reflect upon the whole school ethos to ensure it is reflected in the teaching and learning for all children. Enabling all children to feel valued and supported to give them a sense of safety and belonging as well as the tools they need to develop and thrive.

Quality first teaching

High quality teaching differentiated for individuals, is the first step in responding to pupils who have or may have SEND. We regularly review the quality of teaching for all pupils to ensure it is effective differentiation of the curriculum, delivery and support for the child. Once the child has been identified as being significantly behind their peers or expected progress, the teachers and LSA will record initial concerns.

First concerns

Concerns may be raised by pupils, teachers. At this stage, the teacher will closely monitor the child's progress while making reasonable adjustments within the classroom to meet the child's needs. They will trial strategies recommended by their observations, following the Blackpool Council's graduated approach toolkit. The teacher will raise concerns with parents/carers and discuss outcomes to support the child appropriately. At this moment, we will explore various areas of SEND. After a set period of time, the child's targets will be reviewed. Teachers are responsible and accountable for the progress and development of all the pupils in their class.

SEND support

Following the teacher's close monitoring of the child, if it becomes clear the child requires provision that is additional to, or different from the lessons provided as part of the 'universal offer' involving high quality teaching, then the child will be referred to the SENDCo. The SENDCo will consult with parents/carers, class teacher and pupil to discuss concerns. At this point, further testing from a GP or paediatrician and the LA's Inclusion Team may be requested. The SENDCo will begin the process of 'assess, plan, do, review' (APDR) cycle. This will be completed through a multi-agency meeting to plan how to move forward and review what has already been implemented. The child will be placed onto the SEND register.

School complex

The SENDCo will continue the APDR cycle meeting and may refer to the Educational Psychologist for further advice/assessment. In some cases, the child's needs may prove to be more complex and long term for their needs to be met. Therefore, an application for statutory assessment (EHCP) will be submitted by the SENDCo to the Local Authority.

School Specialist

If the Local Authority agree and the child is awarded an Education, Health and Care Plan (EHCP) they may be provided with additional support or specialist provision.

An EHCP is a legally binding document, which sets out provision that the child must receive to meet their SEND needs. The Local Authority provides school with additional funds to cover the cost of the additional provision. A child with an EHCP will have their progress reviewed annually at a person centred review meeting.

How do we involve parents/carers and consult with them about their child's education?

- Waterloo Primary Academy has a safe 'open door' policy and encourages parents who have any concerns to come into school and discuss these with the class teacher and/or SENDCo.
- Class based staff collect children from the yard before and after school.
- The SENDCo's working days are Monday, Tuesday and Thursdays.
- All parents (whether their child has SEND or not) have 2 parent meetings each year - any SEND issues can be discussed and the SENDCo will also be available.
- Intervention targets are discussed with the parents during these meetings and are also sent home.
- Annual review meetings are held for any child with an Education Health and Care Plan (EHCP) at which the objectives are reviewed and any additional needs are discussed.
- The school website.

- The school Facebook page.
- Appointments with the class teacher, SENDCo, Pastoral Manager or Head of School can be made at any time at the school office.
- Parents are asked for their opinions and advice to help school support their child with SEND.
- School reports are completed annually.

How do we involve children in their education?

- Consultation with children depends on their age.
- Children are encouraged to be involved in their Annual Reviews and/or in reviewing their own termly targets.
- All children are invited to their parent consultations.
- Children with SEND are encouraged to have ownership of setting their own targets.

How do we assess and review the progress towards outcomes and how do we include the children and their parents?

Academic progress made by SEND children is assessed in the same way as for others. At Waterloo Primary Academy, we use year group expectations. Those children who are not able to work at their year group expectations, will work at lower year group expectations. Younger children who are working significantly below year group expectations are usually assessed using 'P Scales'. Parents are kept informed about their child's progress via informal meetings with their child's teacher, termly parent meetings and reports. Children are involved in this process. If we continue to have concerns, we follow the graduated approach and, with parental consent, may seek further advice from an Advisory Teacher or an Educational Psychologist.

How do Waterloo Primary Academy prepare and support the children during transition in school and between settings?

- All the children have opportunities to attend transition visits.
- Professionals and staff from both institutions meet to discuss how the child's needs can best be met.
- Any child with an EHC Plan has a transition review meeting during the summer term of Year 6 and an action plan is drawn up to ensure a smooth transition to High School.
- If it is felt appropriate, additional transition visits are made by the pupil to the school they will be attending, accompanied by a member of our school staff.
- If appropriate, other provisions to support transition may also be put in place and can be discussed with individual high schools/settings.
- All children are encouraged to attend school open days and induction days.
- Those children we believe may struggle considerably with the transition to high school will be offered extra support from their new high school.
- For children on the SEND register, the SENDCo will meet with the high school SENDCo to ensure that suitable provision can be arranged for each individual child.
- Depending on the needs of the child, the parents may also be involved in this process.

What is our approach to teaching children with SEND?

- We have high expectations for all children and strive to provide an inclusive learning environment that meets the needs of all children, enabling them to reach their true potential.
- All teachers adapt their teaching to respond to the strengths and needs of all children.
- How we meet each child's needs will vary between children dependant on individual needs.
- We follow the graduated approach for all children.

How Waterloo Primary Academy adapt the curriculum and learning environment for children with SEND?

The curriculum and classroom provision is continually adapted and considered for children with SEND. The curriculum is taught to a high standard through first quality teaching. Teachers, Learning Support Assistants (LSA), SENDCo regularly review the provision needed to meet the needs of the children, some examples of our considerations are:

- Layout of the classroom
- Specialist equipment may be provided e.g. writing slopes, wobble cushion, pencil grips.
- The need for small group or 1:1 work.
- Intervention groups
- Social groups or intervention to support friendships
- Support or intervention for children with emotional difficulties

How are staff trained and kept up to date? If we need more expert help and advice, what do we do?

The SENDCo's job is to support the class teacher in planning for children with SEND.

The academy provides training and support to enable all staff to improve the teaching and learning of children, including those with SEND. This includes whole academy training on SEND, such as sensory needs and speech and language difficulties. Individual teachers and support staff attend training in house and courses run by outside agencies.

If we require further expert help and advice, we can seek support from a range of professionals that specialise in areas such as:

- Autistic Spectrum Condition
- Social, Emotional, Mental Health
- Cognition and Learning
- Visual impairment
- Hearing impairment
- Physical development
- Trauma

How do we know if what we provide for the children is effective?

At Waterloo Primary Academy, class teachers continually monitor their progress.

This progress will be formally reviewed each term by the Deputy Headteacher, Head of Year (or Phase) and class teacher in reading, writing and maths through pupil progress meetings.

At the end of key stage 1 (Year 2) and the end of key stage 2 (Year 6), all children are required to be formally assessed using national curriculum assessment (commonly known as SATs). This is something the government requires all schools to do and results are published nationally.

We follow the graduated approach and the four-part cycle of assess, plan, do, review.

For the pupils on the SEN register under SEN support, have an individual provision map. These highlight the support in place and are reviewed each half term. For the children who are under school complex support, have a personalised action plan, outlining the difficulty, targets, strategies/resources and evaluations. The class teacher will work with the SENDCo and outside agencies to carry out a clear analysis and review of the pupils needs and progress each half term, outlining the effectiveness of the support and interventions on the pupil's progress.

The progress of children with an EHC Plan will be formally reviewed at an Annual Review with all adults involved in the child's education.

The SEND Practitioner monitors the intervention logs to keep record of the impact of the interventions used for each child. The SEND Practitioner and SENDCo review the logs each term, to ensure the provision for the child is correct.

How are children with SEND enabled to engage in activities available at Waterloo Primary Academy?

All activities are available to all in line with the Equalities Act (2010).

Waterloo Primary Academy offers a wide range of 'after school' and 'lunch time' extra-curricular clubs to both infants and junior children. Allowances are provided accordingly for children who may encounter difficulty in accessing the clubs.

How are children supported who have emotional and behavioural difficulties?

Waterloo Primary Academy understands that all behaviour is communication and adopt a trauma-informed approach to behaviour regulation and wellbeing. Strong relationships are at the heart of this approach – between staff and pupils and between pupils themselves. Additionally, we have a strong pastoral team and school SENDCo, who will ensure those children with SEND receive all the support necessary.

What should I do if I have a concern or complaint about the provision for my child?
